

HAZARD AND RISK MANAGEMENT IN CONSTRUCTION SITE

COURSE SUMMARY

Risk Management, in the context of occupational safety and health (OSH), is the process of identifying OSH hazards, determining the risk based on likelihood and severity of work injuries, ill health and property damage, prioritizing the implementation of preventive measures to mitigate these risks and communicating the risk assessment to workers.

OBJECTIVE

To discuss and gain a new knowledge about the safe work instructions of waste handling and to ensure we have a common understanding on its implementation at the Construction sites/work place.
